Two Glades Boys Die In Airplane Crash On Monday

Both Fatally Burned As Aircraft Crashes, Bursts Into Flames At South Bay

The charred skeleton, frame and molten tires are all that remains of a two-seater airplane in which two Glades boys made a tragic flight on Monday.

Johnny Price, 18, of Chosen, burned to death when the plane was piloting crashed in an attempted landing at Roberts Flying Field, South Bay, just before noon Monday.

His passenger, William Lewis Roberts, 23, of South Bay, died at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital at 4:53 am Tuesday as a result of burns received in the accident.

According to South Bay Chief of Police R. C. White, who saw the accident, the light aircraft was coming in for a landing at the flying field when it struck utility wires near the South Bay Growers' market, and nosedived into the FEC railroad tracks near Everglades Produce Company.

According to friends of the Roberts family, when the airplane hit, the Price boy's foot was caught in the controls, and the Price boy burned to death in the cockpit.

Bobby Willis, 12-year-old South Bay boy who with several playmates was standing nearby and witnessed the accident, said the aircraft was suddenly like "a blazing torch." He said that Roberts, his clothing aflame, leaped away from the plane, and started running, whereupon D. A. Davis, one of the young bystanders, caught him and rolled him on the ground to put out the flames.

By the time Chief of Police White arrived on the scene, the plane had burst into flames.

FPL HAS WEATHERED TWENTY HURRICANES

Since Florida Power & Light Co. was formed in 1925, it has been through 20 hurricanes of greater or lesser proportions.

FPL manager Curtis Chase said Belle Glade Lions Club members meeting Wednesday at the Bend.

The young company, which came to Belle Glade in 1928, lost a great deal of equipment in that disaster, Chase said, but since then, has learned to take hurricanes in its stride.

Chase pointed out that FPL, furnishing electric power in Florida, is in something of the same situation as a hotel owner. Most of the consumers are residential, and use the power for short terms only, which means that FPL, like a hotel, must have maximum equipment, even if it means it isn't in use year round.

Chase said that 85 percent of FPL customers are residential, and provide about 46 percent of the total revenue.

He said that Belle Glade is now served by two high voltage lines, one from the north, and one from the south, which makes it possible to secure power from many of the large stations.

In the last minute rush of last week's edition, this column was omitted so I will have to hurry to get this in. I just wanted to remind everyone that golf membership for the New Year is available at the Club that would be a wonderful New Year's gift to start the new year right. Single members are $30.00 per year; family memberships, $50.00.

Produce Shipment This Season Lags Below Last Year

Vegetable shipments from the Glades this season are about 245 loads behind last season's shipments, according to R. E. Howard, FPL railway agent, who said that ending January 2, 1953, 907 carloads of produce had been shipped by rail from the north and south end of the lake, as compared with 1,152 carloads shipped last winter by the same date.

The lag is almost entirely in beans, Mr. Howard said, and is attributed to the hard frost that swept out several thousand beans only a few weeks ago. Mr. Howard said that celery shipments are behind last winter's and pointed out that last season, in one week alone, 143 cars of celery were shipped out of the Glades, whereas total shipments of celery to date this season are only 177 cars.

All but four carloads of this celery have been shipped from the south end of the lake, he said, and most of it has been harvested by A. Duda & Sons. The heavy rains this year started celery, but the recent frost did no damage, as celery thrives in cold. Both Duda and Pioneer Growers of Belle Glade, as well as South Bay Growers, have put a good quantity of frozen Heart and Pascal on the market.

Other commodity shipments from the Glades area are about the same this year as last, Howard said.

According to R. R. Zoller, FPL District Market News Service, Belle Glade, the market for celery is very good, with demand for Golden slightly ahead of the market for Pascal. Prices this week were, for Golden: Sizes 2 1/2 for $2.25 a crate; 3 1/2 for $2.50; 4 1/2 for $2.75; 5 1/2 for $3.00; 6 1/2 for $3.25; 7 1/2 for $3.50; 8 1/2 for $3.75; 9 1/2 for $4.00; 10 1/2 for $4.25; EASTERN STAR INSTALLS OFFICERS

A most impressive open installation with many members and friends present was held by the Belle Glade Chapter Number 197 Order of the Eastern Star last Saturday night at Benevolent Hall.

The meeting was called to order by J. W. Lyons, retiring worthy patron, who presented the staff of retiring officers. As a tribute to Mrs. Gladys Williams, outgoing worthy matron, Mrs. Dorothea Ingram sang "End of a Perfect Day."

Mrs. Williams gave an address of welcome and introduced the installing officers who were headed by Mr. Luther Lee Maynard, grand instructor of District 18. Others officiating included Mrs. Edna Barrett, past matron Pahoekes, chapter 184, installing: chaplain: Mrs. Bessie Lyons and Mrs. Margaret Boyd, past matrons of the Belle Glade chapter, installing marshals: Mrs. Dorothy Parker, past matron of Pahoekes, installing organist: Mrs. Stella Pirkle, past matron of Cleveland chapter No. 220, installing secretary.

After Mrs. Williams and her date of officers retired the installing group was introduced by the installing marshals and Mrs. Martha Freeman, worthy matron spoke freely. Taking of oaths in addition to Mrs. Freeman were J. K. Baker, worthy patron; Mrs. Aleese Cherry, associate matron; J. R. Cherry, associate patron; Mrs. Sally Stein, secretary; Mrs. Mary Wall, treasurer; Mrs. Louise Zander, conductress; Mrs. Winnie Roberts, associate conductress; Mrs. Dorothea Ingram, chaplain; Mrs. Tera Dell, marshals; Mrs. Ruby Waddell, Esther; Mrs. Agnes Baker, Martha; Mrs. Mary McDonald, Bessie; Mrs. Eva Pennington, Warden; William Graber, sentinel; Mrs. Pauline Boydston, organist was able to be present.

Joy Freeman, on behalf of his mother, presented each installing officer with a gift.

first place, during the past fifty years. Florida has been a collecting and robust frontier area. In the latter part of the time, it has grown with miraculous speed. Rarely is a frontier concerned too greatly about the moralities in contrast to a more settled and sedate community.

In the second place, during the same period of time Florida has been a resort state with a large part of its population believing that the visitor is entitled to be entertained no matter what. It was good business for the sky to be the limit they thought.

Of late years certain unsavory characters from the tenebrales of the big cities appeared in places on the Florida gambling scene.

Fearful that they might eventually gain too much influence in state and local government, certain influential newspapers launched a crusade against commercial gambling.

When Senator Spessard Holland was governor, he ousted a local police force for carrying on their own affairs, including the enforcement of the gambling laws. By the time Fuller Warren came into office in 1949, the anti-gambling crusade was in full cry. The newspapers had stepped forward to support the crusade. Crime committees were formed. Attorney General Dick Egan entered the fray at the beginning of his administration. There were the sensational revelations in the Kefauver Committee hearings. Governor Warren suspended several sheriffs. Gambling became an issue in the gubernatorial campaign last spring. By his record and his word, Mr. McCarty was for strict enforcement of the laws against gambling.

So, it would appear with McCarty and Ervin throwing a one-two punch during the next four years, investments in gambling equipment will not be profitable.

BETTER CHAMBER JOINS BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce has become a member of the National Better Business Bureau, New York City. This makes it possible for the Chamber better to serve the community as a whole. William Graber, president announced this week.

"By becoming a member of the National Bureau we have been able to place over 600 Chambers of Commerce and 92 Better Business Bureaus throughout the country in the forefront of the buying public from fraudulent promotions and unfair business practices," Mr. Graber said.

"As a member of the Bureau, we will receive monthly bulletins alerting us to the sharp promoters and slick-bait artists operating in other sections. In addition, we will have access to the Bureau's files and are entitled to special reports on any inquiry we make."

The Bureau's program is not a cure-all, it will give the community a channel through which investigation can be made. Mr. Graber emphasized the fact that this program can best serve the community only if the community makes use of it. He urged the buying public to be especially cautious of any proposition which promises "something for nothing."

"As with all programs of the Chamber of Commerce, this one can only be successful if we have the cooperation of the community. A check with the Chamber of Commerce may save time, money and worry. It pays to 'investigate before you invest,' he said.

TALLAHASSEE - YESTERDAY AND TODAY

By Jack Sutor

Apparently it's going to be a long rough four years for the liberal or gambling element in Florida. Governor-elect Dan McCarty in a series of firm and unrelenting statements recently, left little doubt that his attitude is definitely hostile to the liberal group that has its roots and is down for half a century in Florida.

There have been changes in the public attitude toward gambling during the Warren administration. An excellent judge of public opinion, Fuller Warren almost missed that change in public thinking after he came to office. He was in the state long before he cracked down on account of his long years in public life, Warren was aware of the old and rampant public attitude toward gambling that had existed in Florida for fifty years.

That tolerance can be traced to two points of view. In the

SIDEWALK SEEN AS DANGER ZONE

"Another lady fell this morning," wrote C. A. Bailey, local reporter, in a column on the sidewalk. The lady in question, who was walking on the sidewalk by the mail box at the corner of Avenue A and Main Street, fell into the City Commission on Dec. 20. Mr. Bailey pointed out that this place is a danger zone, where he has seen three people suffer in the last six months. "I have reported this to Mr. Pennington and also City Inspector Willis," the letter said. "It appears to me it would be sound basis for some action, and I felt that I should call it to your attention before that happens."

The Gardener's Corner

A SALUTE TO OUR JUNIOR GARDENERS!

By Mrs. Luther W. Jones
A Junior Garden Club has been sponsored by the Belle Glade Garden Club for three years. Mrs. Abby Zumpf is this year's Junior Garden Chairman. The pupils of the sixth grade are the members. They have made a really good start, and flowers are already blooming on the school grounds as a result of their effort.

We hope by the time our flower show is staged on March 27 and 28, they will have some beautiful flowers blooming in their own gardens which they will exhibit and win blue ribbons with. We are, therefore, printing explicit directions that, if followed, will bring this result about.

The following is an excerpt from the booklet "A Child's Guide to Subtropical Gardening" edited by Elizabeth Calderine, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. The booklet was copyrighted in 1951, but Mrs. Calderine has given the writer to use any parts of it that may prove helpful. For the nominal sum of fifty cents, a complete copy may be secured from Mrs. Calderine.

Seeds
Fill coffee can with dirt, clean off outside of can. Bake in oven 275 degrees for 45 minutes. Cool. Punch holes in bottom of

can. Water well. Let stand 2-3 hours.
Take off 1/4 inch of soil. Save (Never use left over seed).
Sow seed. (Better to use 1/4 package seed per coffee can).
Label. Cover with soil saved (above), 1/16 inch to 1/8 inch deep.
Put in shady place. Put in carport or in house during heavy rain or if there are daily rains. Never allow soil to dry out. Never allow soil to become soggy. (Use fine misty spray when watering).
After seeds germinate, water before school—not in the afternoon.

The first Saturday morning after seeds are up, feed with 1/2 teaspoon commercial fertilizer in 1 cup water. Use same feeding following Saturday A.M. Dig flower bed 6 in. - 12 in. deep. Sprinkle (like sugar) any commercial fertilizer over the flower bed—work into soil with rake or trowel.

Transplant the following Saturday morning:
1. Wet can thoroughly.
2. Sprinkle the flower bed.
3. Make holes 6 in. - 8 in. apart, and about 3 in. deep.
4. Gently remove a few seedlings (use small stick or old fork).
5. Carefully separate seedlings.
6. Place in holes so first pair of leaves (seed leaves) are above ground.
7. Gently press soil around plant.

8. Water ground thoroughly. (Water ground around each plant. Avoid drowning the plant).
9. Shade with palmato leaves for one week.
10. Water each morning.

The following Saturday morning mix up in scrub pail 2 gals. water and 4 teaspoons commercial fertilizer. Give each plant about one cup. (2 gals. will feed 16 plants, so mix up more if needed).

Feed once each week, as before.

DAMP OFF: Should seedling stems in can or ground wither just above ground level, spray (with fine spray) ground and plant with 1/4 cup Clorox to 3 pints water, mixed well. Repeat spraying 2 days later if stems are still withering.

Next week we will tell you how a Junior Gardener makes a dish garden.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

WASHINGTON — The Old Man with the Scythe stands by the Gate as the Old Year passes, letting the New Year come in. For Congress there is a busy certain-to-be stimulating, perhaps even an amazing year ahead. This may be our only chance to look ahead, expressing hopes and aspirations for the future in the knowledge of our failures of the past. In what may be my last moments of calm relaxation for many months, meditation brings before me an even dozen New Year's wishes upon which we can jointly base good resolutions.

Here is what we hope the New Year will bring:
Health, happiness and prosperity for the people of the world, and a greater degree of success in efforts to achieve international understandings and friendships.

Peace in the world, an end to the "Cold War" and an honorable settlement of the Korean conflict, with our fighting men returning home in the fulsome knowledge of "mission completed."

A cleaner and stronger United States of America, in which a finer and more democratic government will evolve from the combined unselfish and patriotic efforts of a citizenry moved by the country's welfare than for partisan or personal gain.

A balanced federal budget, with reduced governmental costs bringing a merited reduction in the taxpayers' burden—i.e., a tax cut as soon as it can be managed.

For the state of Florida, continuance of its position as the second-ranking state in national defense activity with strengthening of the present 14 major military installations.

For west Florida, the continued development of the Jim Woodruff dam, bringing closer to the entire Apalachicola River basin with its many thousands of fish people.

For South and central Florida, major progress upon the giant long-range water conservation and flood control program with its assurance of major return to the state and federal government on this investment in the form of a greater and more prosperous agricultural yield, as well as protection from floods and droughts—a more full vegetable basket for the nation.

Expansion of veterans' hospital facilities in Florida and particularly the long and much needed neuropsychiatric hospital at Gainesville.

Healthy development of Miami University's new Medical College and realization of hopes for a medical college at the University of Florida, providing training which will help to reduce the shortage of doctors in the South and the nation.

Orderly and justified expansion and development of the Everglades National Park, and success in solving the problems of the cattle and citrus industries.

For our friends on the newspapers, radio and television stations, a large wisdom, clarity of language, and sense of citizenship responsibility to keep the people informed of the activities of all their public officials.

Last but not least, for me and my colleagues in the Congress, a greater understanding and patience, and the character to develop that insight and wisdom to work in faith and according to the will of the Almighty.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay

If you haven't made a trip down the Overseas Highway between Miami and Key West lately there's a big surprise waiting for you. It is amazing to see the growth and development of the Keys.

I recently drove to Marathon to attend a meeting of the Florida Outdoor Writers Association staged at the new Key Motel at Marathon Shores. It is truly an out-of-this-world setup and the answer to the sportsman's prayer.

Although the weather was a bit snappy when we left Miami, it was a beautiful bright sunny day and the drive south was interesting and enjoyable. Much activity was in evidence in the vast and growing business section between Miami and Homestead. This is one of Florida's richest agricultural areas and is being expanded. Bulldozers and heavy machinery were at work clearing land, and mile after mile of growing crops were to be seen. I noticed a number of new modern packing and processing plants in operation and many new stores, homes and business buildings along the way.

Homestead is a bustling, bustling city that glistered in the warm sunlight. It is growing like a weed with new business blocks and homes everywhere in evidence. I would like to have stopped for a visit with my newspaper friends there but we kept moving. Some day I hope to stop moving. Some day I hope I'll have time to hop in the car and just start out for nowhere in particular, free to stop and visit friends along the way and not be trying to keep some sort of a schedule.

The trip down the Keys is delightful. The vast expanse of the Ocean and Gulf waters, sparkling in the sunshine and presenting gorgeous coloring, provides a neverending panorama of natural beauty that is mighty hard to beat. Roads were in good condition although traffic was fairly heavy and the motorist must be on the alert, particularly on the numerous bridges where hook and line fishermen line the rail and are apt to forget themselves and step back in front of an approaching car.

The State Road Department should provide fishing facilities in the form of catwalks or balconies where folks could fish in safety and not be in the path of fast moving two-way traffic. Two people were killed and three others injured on this highway during the previous weekend, and unless fishing from the bridges is forbidden until other arrangements can be made more lives will be lost.

A fisherman may be cautious enough most of the time, but when a big fish makes a lunge at his plug or starts off with his bait, all thought of personal safety or surroundings is forgotten and it is the most natural thing in the world for him to step back from the railing in an effort to string and hook a prize fish.

We arrived at the Key Motel shortly after noon and general Phil Sadowski was waiting to greet us as we rolled into the spacious parking area in front of the beautiful main building which houses the office, swanky cocktail lounge, main dining room and coffee shop. Lunch was waiting and we dined on snapper fingers that just seemed to melt in your mouth. In fact, all of our meals there were splendid; I've never encountered finer food and the service was excellent.

Phil Sadowski, who operates the property with the aid of his lovely wife and charming son, is an innkeeper of the old school.

Ford's New Golden Jubilee Model Farm Tractor

FORD MOTOR COMPANY, manufacturer of more than 2 million farm tractors since 1917, has put into production a new, heavier, longer, much more powerful Golden Jubilee model. In 1953 Ford celebrates the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the company by Henry Ford, Sr. in 1903. The new machine is described as the most modern farm tractor ever built and is equipped with advanced type hydraulic system. Outstanding features include Hy-Trol, to increase lifting speed by simple turn of a knob; and the entirely new overhead valve Ford "Red Tiger" engine, most powerful farm tractor engine ever produced by Ford. The new tractor is now in volume production at Ford's Highland Park, Michigan, plant.

If you haven't made a trip down the Overseas Highway between Miami and Key West lately there's a big surprise waiting for you. It is amazing to see the growth and development of the Keys.

I recently drove to Marathon to attend a meeting of the Florida Outdoor Writers Association staged at the new Key Motel at Marathon Shores. It is truly an out-of-this-world setup and the answer to the sportsman's prayer.

Although the weather was a bit snappy when we left Miami, it was a beautiful bright sunny day and the drive south was interesting and enjoyable. Much activity was in evidence in the vast and growing business section between Miami and Homestead. This is one of Florida's richest agricultural areas and is being expanded. Bulldozers and heavy machinery were at work clearing land, and mile after mile of growing crops were to be seen. I noticed a number of new modern packing and processing plants in operation and many new stores, homes and business buildings along the way.

Homestead is a bustling, bustling city that glistered in the warm sunlight. It is growing like a weed with new business blocks and homes everywhere in evidence. I would like to

THE DOG OF TODAY GETS EXPERT MEDICAL CARE

The dog is no longer leading a "dog's life," thanks to advances made in various fields of medicine and nutrition.

"Man's best friend" can now have a standard of living equal to man's.

All this is not news to the approximately 22 million dogs in this country. And not only is the dog's life safer and healthier today, but his life expectancy has increased, just as man's has.

While no official statistics are available, most experts feel that if a pup survives the disease hazard of the first year, and is not run down by an automobile, he can look forward to an old age of 11 to 12 years. Less than a decade ago, his life expectancy was only seven or eight years.

Let's speculate for a minute what has happened to place Old Dog Tray in such a preferred position. Specifically, great advances have been made in preventive and therapeutic medicines, in animal hospitals, and personnel, and in nutrition.

In other aspects of veterinary medicine have been developed more rapidly than in the field of canine practice.

At the giant Lederle Laboratories at Pearl River, N. Y., there is a special section devoted to researching and solving the various disease problems which make the dog's life hazardous and unpleasant. Out of this research have come some of the latest drugs for preventing and combating canine diseases.

One of these is a highly effective vaccine against distemper, most serious common disease in dogdom. Regardless of how well you treat your pooch, or how purebred he is, he is still susceptible to this virus-caused disease unless properly protected.

There was a time when distemper killed more dogs than many other diseases combined, but thanks to this new immunizing vaccine the picture is changing.

Rabies, the one-time horror of dogdom, need no longer cause fear and trembling. A new vaccine developed by Lederle and announced little over a year ago goes solid, lasting immunity against rabies. It is a modified live virus vaccine which does not cause post-vaccinal paralysis, a reaction often as terrible as the disease.

The "wonder-drug" developed for use in human diseases are also playing an important role in elevating the dog's health standards. The sulfa drugs, penicillin, and aureomycin are used for external and internal infections. Another drug developed by Lederle for combating filariasis, a serious tropical disease which infects hundreds of millions of people, is being used by the veterinarian to combat heartworms and large roundworms in dogs.

Surprising developments have occurred in the animal hospital field. There are about 2,500 animal hospitals today equipped to take care of 10 or more animals. The latest official listing reveals that there are about 12,000 licensed veterinarians in this country.

A visit to one of these animal hospitals will surely be a revelation. Many of them are better equipped than human hospitals, and since the standards of the veterinary profession are so high, many dog doctors are as well trained as human doctors.

A sick dog today may get a thorough examination, including X-rays, blood test, heart test, diet test, and, in fact, almost every test a human would get. At the first sign of pneumonia or other respiratory infections, many vets will prescribe the antibiotic "wonder drug" aureomycin for your dog.

All this fine care for dogs may seem silly to some people, but there is this to consider: with proper care, you may have a few years longer than was possible in the past.

Children who grow up with a friendly dog can really appreciate this.

POLL DISCLOSES

ONLY TWO PERSONS IN A HUNDRED

know in what Congressional district they live and even fewer can name the counties comprising it. Two out of five Americans do not know the name of their Congressman although their batting average is slightly better on the names of the State's two Senators.

Thus are summarized results of a month-long quiz-poll conducted by the Florida State Realtors Association to emphasize the need for greater public interest in federal legislation and citizenry better informed on the affairs of government.

"When the 83rd Congress convenes on January 3, it will begin dealing with legislation vitally affecting the lives, the pocketbooks and the future of 111 Americans," association spokesmen point out. "Florida citizens should follow up their splendid record vote of last November 4 with a determination to have an important voice in shaping the country's future."

"We not only must know who our legislators are and how to reach them, but we must actually give them the benefit of our support, our views, our suggestions and also our criticisms. Our public officials need and deserve this cooperation and we are confident they will welcome and appreciate it."

Mail and telegrams to Senators Speas and Holland and George A. Smathers should be addressed to Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. For members of the House of Representatives, to House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Florida's Congressional Districts, the counties comprising them, and their respective Congressmen are:

First—Hernando, Pasco, Hillsborough and Pinellas: Courtney W. Campbell.

Second—Duval and Clay: Charles E. Bennett.

Third—Escambia, Santa Rosa, Okaloosa, Walton, Holmes, Jackson, Washington, Bay, Gulf, Calhoun, Franklin, Liberty, Gadsden, Wakulla, Leon and Jefferson: Robert L. F. Sikes.

DAY OF RECKONING

SOON TO ARRIVE

Federal income taxpayers of Palm Beach county need not worry again this year about what is deductible from their 1952 income taxes, or just who should be exempt. Uncle Sam has figured it out for them again in his 1952 edition of the booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax," which will soon be available at Department of Commerce field offices in the Southeast.

The publication "Your Federal Income Tax" is one of the nation's "best sellers" and each year thousands of taxpayers for it are sent to Commerce Department field offices, according to Merrill C. Lofton, southeastern regional director of that agency in Atlanta.

The 1952 edition of the booklet, which will again be available for 25 cents despite rising costs of other things, will incorporate any changes made in the internal revenue act.

Along with the booklet "Your Federal Income Tax," the Commerce Department is offering other publications and material designed to assist business men and other interested persons in making their 1952 income tax returns to Uncle Sam. The "Your Federal Income Tax" booklet is priced at 25 cents, the pamphlet "Your Rights of Review When the Government Questions Your Income Tax" and "The Small Businessman's Declaration of Estimated Tax," which sell for 10 cents each, and the leaflet "Your Tax Exemption for Small Business Enterprises," for which there is no charge.

Orders are now being taken for these publications at U. S. Department of Commerce offices at 425 Federal Building, Jacksonville, and 947 S. Bay Building, Miami.

VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE

WW II POW PAY FOR AMERICANS WHO SERVED IN CANADIAN FORCES

The Canadian Government has announced that American citizens who were prisoners-of-war while serving with the Canadian forces during World War II are entitled to $1 per day bonus for each day as a prisoner-of-war of the enemy.

Payments are made for death, personal injury, and maltreatment. Maltreatment, for which most claims will be filed, is treated in two respects. One applies to prisoners-of-war in the European Theatre and the other to prisoners-of-war in the Far Eastern Theatre.

For former prisoners-of-war of the Japanese, eligibility for maltreatment awards at the rate of $1 per diem will be automatic.

In respect to prisoners-of-war of the European Theatre, where a person has been in the direct custody of members of an organization declared a criminal organization by the Nuremberg International Military Tribunal, such as the SS, SD, Gestapo and Leadership Corps, and is ineligible for an award under the Summer Commission test (that is, (1) that incapacity to work should have been the consequence of maltreatment, and (2) that such incapacity for work should have been substantiated after liberation, he may, if held in such custody for a period of 14 days or more, be awarded the $1 per day for each day of such custody.

Thus, hundreds of American ex-POWs, turned down by U. S. War Claims Commission because they did not serve with U. S. Forces, will collect the award from Canada.

Best way to control wireworm on corn, sugar cane and sweet potatoes

aldrin

Aldrin—approved by agricultural authorities for control of certain soil pests—has established a long record for wireworm control on sugar cane, corn and sweet potatoes.

Easy-to-use aldrin can be applied to soil in two ways:

1. Apply aldrin directly on the ground, as dust or spray, and harrow it in when possible.
2. Have your supplier mix aldrin with your fertilizer and apply with conventional row treatment.

Make your next crop a profitable one, free of wireworm and other destructive insects... use aldrin before planting. Your dealer will be glad to give additional information.
